A COVINGTON man opposes the curfew ordinance on the ground that any parent who can't control his children himself and keeps them at home, has no right to have any, and he is opposed to a municipal or legislative body dictating to him or any other free-born American citizen as to how he should raise his own children.

MR. SAM. J. SHACKELFORD, one of the most prominent and influential young Democrats of Owensboro, has concluded to make the race for the office of Clerk of the Court of Appeals, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Shackelford is a young man of fine business qualifications and is nominated and elected we believe would perform the duties of the office with satisfaction to the litigants before that court.

WILL RESIGN THE GOVERNORSHIP.
The people of Kentucky were evidently surprised on Tuesday at the announcement in the Courier-Journal that Governor Bradley intended to resign the office of Governor in a short time. He says that the duties of the office are killing him and that he intends to resign, regardless of the political consequences.

NOTICE OF CONTEST.

On last Saturday Mr. A. T. Herd, Assistant Secretary of the Republican Campaign Committee, served notice of contest on Hon. W. B. Smith, the only Bryan elector for the State of Kentucky.
There can be but one object in this contest and that must be apparent to any one. The gamblers are the only persons that can possibly be benefited, even should the contest succeed.
It looks little even to humiliation to see the Republicans after having just elected a President of the United States now cater to the appeals of gamblers and start out to do dirty work for them, however, the average Republican is not above any little act, and they have never been particular about their associates.

THE NEGRO VOTE.

From an examination of the vote in the States of Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Maryland the negro votes in the States named is larger than the Republican majorities in the last November election. It is well known that the negro votes the Republican ticket regardless of the policy advocated by that party. They would have voted for bimetalism just as cordially as they did for monometalism had the Republican party so declared. It is not principle but party that the negro votes for.
Had the will of the voters in the States named, whose actions were that of judgment and for the best interest of the country prevailed, W. J. Bryan would have been President. A large majority of the intelligent and patriotic citizenship of this country is for true bimetalism.
It is to be hoped that the negro may yet some day prove himself a deserving citizen and vote for his interest governed by judgment and not prejudice.

FOLLY OF MONOMETALISM.

We were told by gold bug orators and the daily press generally that there was plenty of money in the country and all that was needed for renewed prosperity was confidence. The persons that advocated bimetalism contended that more legal tender money and not confidence was the thing lacking. The people, however, voted for confidence and monometalism.
That the policy is wrong has been fully established by the thousands of failures that have occurred since the November election. Hardly a failure has been reported but that the assets of the party or institution failing was from 50 to 75 per cent. greater than the liabilities. Jay Cooke wrote the following letter in 1892:

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Dec. 22, '92.
Editor of the Manufacturer:

Your views on the silver question are, in every respect, perfectly correct, and I say this from an experience of over fifty years in the banking business.

Our statesmen and the press generally are woefully blind to the effect this opposition to the remonetization of silver is having in our country's prosperity, to say nothing of what is greater, its effect upon the whole world.

It seems inconceivable that when the world is increasing so rapidly in population, in development of every kind, in railroads, manufacturing, and the opening of vast agricultural regions, that the business of the world, by a mere arbitrary decree, should be reduced to a condition of reliance upon gold only. As a measure of value; and, then, in my opinion, we have not yet begun to feel the full weight of this foolish and absurd attempt to bring the world to conform to monometalism.

The demonization of silver in 1873, although a measure enacted ignorantly, confessed by Congress, was a great crime to civilization and progress; and, further, the vast majority of the people, who are not capitalists, have been reduced in resources and in debt paying capacity to the full extent of the withdrawal of the legal tender silver money.

It is almost laughable, were it not for the daily read the editorials in the United States, that the country which is in a great majority adverse to the upholding of silver and restoring it to the basis of 16 to 1, and to its former position as a legal tender, debt-paying metal.

Silver, for all time, has held place far above that of gold in the money transaction of the world. Amongst at least two-thirds of the population of the world it is now the sole currency. Now in the fulness of time, when the world is full of activities and development, instead of making a legal tender basis of silver and gold each, the wiseness of this day have deliberately destroyed one half of this necessary basis. Was there ever anything so full of folly?

The newspapers seem to be doing all they can to create a panic by declaring that the further buying of silver will expel the gold from the United States treasury, and from this country, which is a silly proposition. It has no foundation whatever in fact, or in the experience of those who have watched the course of events in the past.

Hoping that you will continue to battle as you have done in the past, namely, for the right, I am sincerely your friend and well-wisher.

JAY COOKE.

We believe many persons honestly and conscientiously opposed bimetalism this year who, if they will continue to be honest with themselves, will be found with themselves fighting for humanity during the year we are just about to enter upon.

A debased currency may deprive some of a little. An exalted currency shakes the entire fabric of commerce and sweeps away the business and fortunes of thousands. Under a gold standard the products of labor bring so little nominally, that borrowers cannot meet their promises to banking institutions. The bankers are unable to pay depositors, and we have against the effects of 1893 when the gold standard was first forced upon us.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Evening Dresses, Styles in Making, Round or Square Necks, Sleeves, Sleeves and Answers.

With Christmas and New Year entertainments close at hand, evening dresses become a matter of importance, and all purses and tastes may be suited, materials varying in price from 10 cents a yard up to $25.

The least expensive dresses are of cotton organdy in pretty floral stripes, beginning at 10 cents and ending at 45 cents, the appropriate lining being satin and made with a full round waist, very short sleeves, a wide "crush" belt or satin sash; the dress is far beyond the expenditure. White or colored handkerchiefs, a soft, silky fabric, is very attractive, quite wide and only $1 per yard, and the diminished width of skirts, and smaller size of sleeves, make a perceptible difference in expense. Another popular material for evening wear is drap d'ete in white or pearl, 44-inches wide and $1.50 per yard. Skirts of this fabric may be trimmed with either satin or velvet ribbon, and for a tall, slender person, three graduated rows of either garniture at the lower edge, and a second cluster about half way up prevent an appearance of stiffness in the skirt. Tulle silks, gauze, or chiffon over satin are all fashionable, and skirts of handsome material may open at the front over an elegant silk and lace petticoat, or side panels arranged on the same principle break the possible monotony of a plain skirt.

To The Front Once More.

The Richmond Silver Band under the direction of Prof. Robert Mitchell, of Ironton, Ohio, has taken on new life and bids fair for success in the future. They have added a number of new members to their already efficient list of musicians. In connection with the band they have a full orchestra of first-class players.

In the near future a benefit entertainment is contemplated which will be strictly up to date. All music-loving people should lend a helping hand of encouragement and assist in the advancement of that which will prove a source of much musical treats during the balmy evenings of the summer. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.
